Angela Palm, Director of Policy & Legislative Services and attorney Phil Hartley will provide the latest information on the happenings under the Gold Dome. Participants will receive 6 credit hours. Lunch is included in the registration fee. This workshop begins at 8:30 AM.

School Board Members, Step to the Front on Achieving Racial Equity (June 8, 2017) - $230.00

Our Friday Keynote Speaker, Glenn Singleton is the trainer for this workshop and is the founder of Pacific Educational Group (PEG).

Participants will receive 6 credit hours. Participants will learn how to: Recognize the board's ability, through policy and resource allocation, to eliminate academic and system barriers for students; Receive examples of helpful norms to have in place for leading or participating in race, equity, and poverty discussions on your board, in your district, and in your community; and gain an understanding of current system inequities and disparate outcomes through the lens of Georgia's history (institutional and structural barriers.) Lunch is included in the registration fee. This workshop begins at 8:30 AM.

The Data Made Me Do It! Using Data for Continuous School Improvement (June 8, 2017) - $230.00

Participants will receive 6 credit hours. Data is fundamental to effective school governance, yet many school board members aren't experts in education data and aren't sure where to begin. NSBA's Patte Barth, Director of the Center for Public Education is the trainer for this workshop. Participants will receive 6 credit hours. Data First is a data-decision making process (developed by NSBA's Center for Public Education along with state school board associations in California, Illinois and Michigan) that is designed specifically to help school boards use data effectively in their governance role. Explore how boards can use data to set goals, align resources, and monitor actions to improve outcomes for their students. Learn how other Georgia boards are using data to form their decisions about student achievement. Lunch is included in the registration fee. This workshop begins at 8:30 AM.
