

ANNOUNCING SUPERINTENDENT VACANCY

Rome City School System Rome, Georgia

The Rome City Board of Education is seeking qualified applicants for the position of Superintendent of Schools. Applications will be accepted through June 5, 2022 at 11:59 p.m. EST. See the application process below for more information.

THE SCHOOL SYSTEM

Welcome to Rome City Schools!

We are Wolves and we are fiercely dedicated to excellence accompanied by an unwavering sense of solidarity, for each other and for our community. Our system consists of six elementary schools, one middle and one high school, one performance learning center, one virtual academy, one transitional academy, and one College and Career Academy. RCS has recently achieved high scoring in accordance with the Cognia Accreditation Process. This process, reviewing performance and engagement, examines the whole institution to determine how well the parts work together to meet the needs of students. Results are reported on a scale of 100 to 400, and RCS has received a Cognia score of 381.61. As a result of this score, RCS was one of 20 districts worldwide to receive Accreditation with Distinction.

THE COMMUNITY

Rome is the largest city and the county seat of Floyd County, Georgia. Located in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains, the city of Rome had a total population of 37,717 as of the 2020 census and was the largest city in Northwest Georgia. There were 14,227 households residing in the city of Rome at the time of that census. Twenty-four percent of Rome's population was under the age of 18 years old. The racial makeup of the city was 62.9 White, 24.8% Black, and 21.6% Hispanic. The median household income was $38,987 as of the 2020 census update. The per capita income for the city was $26,547. About 25.1% of the city's population was below the poverty line. As of 2020, 79.3% of the population had obtained more than a high school diploma.

The total land area of Rome is 29.8 square miles. Though no interstate highway passes through Rome, it is the largest city near the center of the triangular area defined by the interstate highways between Atlanta, Birmingham, and Chattanooga. This placement contributes to its importance as a regional center for education and medical care.

The city of Rome and Floyd County has a lot to offer community members. Notable recognitions include Top 100 Places to Live by Forbes Magazine and RelocateAmerica.com as well as being named the #4 Least Expensive Cities to Live in America by Business Insider. Our community offers opportunities in manufacturing, education, healthcare, technology and tourism, which all greatly contribute to the economy. Floyd County is home to three healthcare facilities that employ over 6,000 people -- Atrium Health Floyd, Harbin Clinic, and Advent Health Redmon. Lowes and Kelloggs are the top two manufacturing employers with over 1400 employees.

There are four higher education institutions within Rome and Floyd County: Berry College, Georgia Highlands Community College, Georgia Northwestern Technical College, and Shorter University. These institutions are great resources for the Rome City Schools District. The institutions not only provide dual enrollment opportunities for RCS students but also contribute valuable student teachers to our system. This collaboration allows an opportunity to offer employment to highly qualified and skilled educators upon their graduation. Combined, the four higher education institutions employ over 2,000 people. One can truly see the multitude of opportunities in our community.
